

How to Use this Guide

This guide is meant to offer advice on courses to take in the first year of college in order to progress towards a degree for new students at UNC Asheville, or their advisors. Completing a degree will require completion of both the Integrative Liberal Studies (ILS) curriculum as well as major requirements set by the department you choose to declare a major in.

Please read the general plan first. This has information on 100-level requirements for ILS. Then you may review the section on your intended major. Designing your first-year plan will likely consist of beginning with the recommendations under your major, and then adding any and all ILS courses that you feel comfortable taking in your first year.

Sociology

- It is important to note that the Sociology & Anthropology department recommends that majors take STAT 185: Intro to Statistics (4). This also fulfills the ILS 4 hour Math requirement, so it is a good thing for intended Sociology majors to take in their first year, as it covers both areas.
- SOC 100: Introduction to Sociology (3) is the first course that Sociology majors should take, and is followed by SOC 225: Social and Cultural Inquiry (3), also cross-listed as ANTH 225.
- Since Anthropology is a concentration within Sociology, it is easy for students interested in one area to take courses in the other.
